Pupils present the cheque to a representative from the Brainstrust charity

Primary pupils raise record amount for brain tumour charity

BIG-hearted pupils at a Skelmersdale primary school have raised nearly £1,000 for an organisation that helps people diagnosed with a brain tumour.

The youngsters at Bishop Martin CE Primary School in Birkrig raised £950 for the Brainstrust charity through various events including non-uniform days.

A representative of the charity who went along to receive the cheque said that the total was higher than any other primary school he had worked with.

Acting head teacher, Ian McDonald, said: "Pupil voice is a real strength of Bishop Martin and it is through our school council that we decided to support Brainstrust.

"They are an incredible charity who have supported one of our families and deserve more support for the work they do.

"I am incredibly proud that the whole school community of Bishop Martin have given such huge support to Brainstrust this year."

PALS TO TACKLE ANDES TREK IN MEMORY OF ZAC

Report by Henry James

Intrepid duo aim to raise £5,000 for heart charity

TWO friends from Skelmersdale are set to tackle the peaks of the Andes in a five-day sponsored trek to raise money for charity in memory of a local youngster who died earlier this year from a heart condition.

Michael Vella and Andrew Carmichael, both aged 52, will take the trail to the 15th-century Inca settlement in memory of 11-year-old Zac Taylor who suffered from Wolff-Parkinson-White syndrome, a condition which causes the heart to beat unusually fast.

Zac, who was a keen goalkeeper, died after collapsing at home in February.

Now Andrew and Michael, who is a close friend of Zac's family - who also lost daughter Kelsey to a heart condition - hope to raise at least £5,000 for the charity, Cardiac Risk in The Young (CRY).

Michael has been supporting CRY for three years since meeting Maureen Marshall, mother of Ormskirk teenager John who died from an undetected heart defect the day he was due to sign for Everton.

He has already raised £8,000 for the charity through the Skem Athletic National Girls Football Tournament which he helps to organise.

Money raised from their Andes trek will go towards funding heart screenings for young people from across West Lancashire and surrounding areas.

Michael said: "The North West is one of the worst areas in the UK for people dying from undiagnosed heart defects so I wanted to do something to help.

"Three years ago I took my two children to get free screenings and that's when I met Maureen Marshall who told me about CRY and the sad loss of her son, John.

"This inspired me to raise money so that children and young adults can get free screenings for potentially life-threatening heart defects.

"We have already started training for the challenge by completing the three peaks

Motorists urged to beware of the deer

Report by Danielle Thompson

MOTORISTS in West Lancashire are being urged to beware of deer on roads in the area after one was in collision with a car in the borough last week.

In the incident in Westhead on Friday, July 15 a young deer darted into the road from a nearby field and straight into the path of a car.

Although the driver braked hard she was unable to avoid hitting the deer with considerable force and the creature later had to be humanely put down.

A spokesperson for Lancashire Constabulary said: "A lady was driving her car along the country lanes of Westhead when a young deer darted out across the road in front of her from a field at the side.

"Despite braking hard and with nowhere to go, the deer was hit with force causing significant damage to the car and great distress to the driver. Other motorists stopped to assist and were able to drag the unconscious deer out of the road.

"We were called and at scene within a few minutes as the deer began to come round a little. However, it soon became clear that the injuries were worse than first feared and a local vet was called to put it to sleep.

This car was damaged after colliding with a young deer on a country lane near Westhead

'Distressing'

"Armed officers had already been alerted and made their way to Westhead. Unfortunately the vet was unable to attend for quite some time and a decision was made, due to the suffering of the animal, to close the road, to ensure public safety, and for firearms officers to dispatch the deer. West Lancs Borough Council later attended to collect the deer.

"It was a very distressing and upsetting situation for all involved."

According to the British Deer Society, there are a number of ways that drivers can try to avoid a collision with a deer.

•If you see a deer on the road, be aware that others may cross too as they usually move around in groups.

•After dark, use your full beam when there is no oncoming traffic as your headlights will illuminate the eyes of the deer giving you earlier warning and greater reaction time. As soon as you see a deer, dip your headlights as animals startled by the beam may 'freeze' rather than leaving the road.

•Don't over-swerve to avoid a deer. If a collision with the animal seems inevitable, then hit it while maintaining full control of your car. The alternative of swerving into oncoming traffic or a ditch could be even worse – apart from motorcyclists, who are at particular risk when in direct collisions with animals.

•Only brake sharply and stop if there is no danger of being hit by following traffic.

•Report any deer-vehicle collisions to the police. Do not approach an injured deer yourself as it may be dangerous.

The tomes they are a-changin' for George!

Skem author swaps local history for in-depth portrait of music idol Dylan

Report by Tom Martin

AN author who has previously specialised in local history books, has turned his hand to a completely different genre by penning an in-depth portrait of popular music icon, Bob Dylan.

George Orr, who lives in Forest Hill/Drive, Skelmersdale, has been a fan of the American singer-songwriter - best known for protest songs Blowin' in the Wind and The Times They Are a-Changin' - since seeing him in concert in 1963.

And his book, 'Bob Dylan: An English Fans Scrapbook' is certainly one for true Dylan devotees to savour with nearly 64,000 words and 500 pictures - including newspaper clippings and album reviews - packed into its near 300-pages.

Publishing of the book has coincided with the singer's 75th birthday earlier this year. However, George explained that it has actually been three years in the making, having started it in 2013.

And the 68-year-old author certainly went the 'extra mile' in his research for the work, even travelling to New York to witness a tribute to his idol.

George said: "I started the book in 2013 and originally intended to finish it after I saw Dylan in Manchester in October 2015. But then I decided to wait until after his 75th birthday which was on May 24 this year.

"I flew over to New York and attended a tribute concert on his birthday held in Greenwich Village at the first night club where he played a professional gig, Gerdes Folk City, which is now called Village Underground.

"The grandson of the original club owner, Bob Porco, put on the show which was excellent.

"And the response from the New Yorkers towards me was one of amazement that a Dylan fan from England would fly over just for the show!"

George, who was educated in Bootle and worked in factories growing up, is a huge Dylan fan. Since that first concert in 1963, he has seen him perform many times.

George Orr with a copy of his book on Bob Dylan

He added: "The book has various cuttings from Dylan's shows and appearances in England, many from his Liverpool shows, as well as his CD releases and reviews.

"There are also some very rare Dylan items in the book that most fans would not have seen before."

'Bob Dylan: An English Fans Scrapbook' costs £15 and can be bought on eBbay or by emailing George at george.blueblood@gmail.com.

Snowdon, Scafell and Ben Nevis.

"I have also been going to the gym three or four nights a week to train for the trek and I am playing football again."

Meanwhile Michael has also arranged a charity day at the Coach House in Skelmersdale on Saturday, July 30.

Running from 3pm until late it will also feature Liverpool FC memorabilia being auctioned.

If you would like to support Michael log on to www.justgiving.com/fundraising/michael-vella.

Adam earns his stripes

A TEENAGER at Skelmersdale ATC has been promoted to sergeant.

Adam Elms, 16, of Our Lady Queen of Peace High School has been a member of 1439 (Skelmersdale) Squadron Air Training Corps for three-and-a-half years and has achieved a number of qualifications and great leadership skills.

Sgt. Elms has already started using this new rank to benefit the younger cadets under his command.

Other qualifications Adam has achieved with the organisation include radio communications and first aid, while he has also taken part in many camps such as adventure training, shooting and flying.

Showcase aims to celebrate town's diversity

Report by Henry James

SKELMERSDALE is to set to celebrate the town's diverse community and showcase some of the clubs, groups and activities that are available for people to take part in at a special week-long event later this month.

The Celebrate Skelmersdale event will start with a showcase day on Saturday, July 30 between 11am and 3pm and there will be everything from stalls to demonstrations from some of the groups working hard to make the town a great place to live.

The showcase day will take place at the Evermoor Hub, Birleywood and will include the successful Men-Aces disability football team, martial arts demonstrations, song and dance and activities by the West Lancs Allotments Federation.

Organisers of the Celebrate Skelmersdale event Rita Newby (vice-chair), Johndaniel Jaques (treasurer), Ron Cooper (secretary), and Cllr. Claire Cooper (chair)

ACTIVITIES

Refreshments will be available and representatives of the Fire Brigade and Police will be present.

There will also be opportunities to sign up for activities taking place across the town throughout the week.

Vice-chair of the event, Rita Newby said: "I often hear people say 'there's nothing to do in Skem' - but that's just not true.

"There are so many activities that the reality is it can be hard to choose which ones to take part in once you know what's out there.

"With the fantastic support of Hotter Comfort Shoes, Tawd Vale Lions and Farmfoods we are looking forward to showing everyone just what this town has to offer."

The celebration, organised by a group of Skelmersdale residents and local councillor Claire Cooper, will culminate in an event at the E-Rooms music venue on Friday, August 5.

More details can be found on Facebook (search Celebrate Skelmersdale) or on website www.roncooper66.wix.com/skelmersdale1.

Any local companies or individuals wishing to donate prizes or offer other support can get in touch with the organisers by emailing Claire4birchgreen@gmail.com.

MP and health body in row over chair's salary

Rosie Cooper says CCG pay levels need to be scrutinised

Report by Henry James

ROSIE Cooper has criticised the chair of the NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) for "pocketing up to £140,000 of taxpayers' money for a part-time role."

The West Lancs MP spoke out after the group published figures showing that the chair, Dr John Caine's salary for 2015-16 was between £105,000 and £110,000, plus, she claimed, pension benefit payments of between £27,500 and £30,000.

She said the total package of up to £140,000 was in addition to any income he receives as a GP at his Parbold Surgery practice where he is a partner.

However, a spokesperson for NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group said the pension details quoted by the MP were inaccurate, pointed out that CCG management costs were within budget and defended the chairman's role.

Ms Cooper has tabled a series of parliamentary questions on how payment levels of clinical commissioning groups are set, especially as West Lancs CCG is one of the smaller commissioning bodies.

She said: "It was staggering to see the financial package that is paid to the part-time chair of one of the smaller CCGs in the country. This is before you add on any salary he receives from continuing to practice as a GP.

"When you consider that the median annual wage for West Lancashire is £20,836, this puts into context the chair receiving up to £30,000 in pension benefits alone.

"In neighbouring Knowsley, the chair receives a payment of £55,000 to £60,000 for a CCG which has a larger population than West Lancashire. What is so different in the roles that Dr Caine believes a package of up to £140,000 offers twice the value for money as his Knowsley counterpart?

"I strongly believe that NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group, who have responsibility for setting their own pay levels, need to justify the current salary levels and review if they are appropriate in the current financial climate within the NHS - especially as we are talking about a part-time role.

"At a time when residents are struggling to get an appointment with their GP, health budgets are being cut and services are under incredible pressure the salary arrangements at West Lancashire CCG need to be scrutinised."

A spokesperson for NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group commented: "All GPs working for the CCG including the chairman are paid on a single uniform sessional rate - the same as that previously paid by the NHS Central Lancashire Primary Care Trust.

"The sessional rate paid is determined by the remuneration committee (which has no GP representation) and has remained unaltered throughout the three years-plus the CCG has been in operation.

"The pension payments quoted in the MP's statement do not represent payments made by the CCG on behalf of the chairman. The CCG continues to be run within its allocated management costs.

"GPs that are also chairs of CCGs devote different amounts of time to the role, in addition to their regular work treating patients. Our chairman works for the CCG for the majority of his working time. In addition to his chairman role, he also takes on a wider role of clinical responsibility for the CCG, for example overseeing urgent care.

"We are fortunate to have a chair who has dedicated a greater portion of time to CCG duties. Our chair's input, along with our other GP board members and clinicians, ensures that our work and decisions are underpinned by expert clinical knowledge about local health services."

Don’t ‘Pokemon GO overboard’ warn police as craze sweeps through Skelmersdale

SKELMERSDALE Police are warning people playing the latest craze Pokemon Go that they can't just wander onto private property.

They issued a statement after they caught two men trespassing on Wednesday, July 13 behind a shop in Skelmersdale who said they were playing the game.

Pokemon GO, the craze which has ‘gripped the nation’ has come to West Lancashire with hundreds of excited mobile phone users wandering the streets searching for virtual monsters to catch and collect.

And thanks to something called augmented reality, the collectible monsters are being seen popping up all over town at pubs, offices, apartment complexes and even the concourse!

However the exploratory nature of the game has seem some users stray onto private land in search of some of the illusive critters.

A spokesman for Skelmersdale Police said: “Everyone is going crazy for Pokemon Go.

“We received an incident report yesterday regarding two males acting suspiciously to the rear of a shop, when we identified the males and questioned them as to why they were there, their reply was, they were playing Pokemon Go!

“Please remember, no matter how addicted you get to the game remember that the normal rules apply you can’t just wonder onto private property or places that are not open to members of the public Playing Pokemon Go is not a valid excuse for being where you shouldn’t!

“Also on a safety note if you are wandering the streets with your phone held out in front of you, you are advertising it to thieves so be mindful of your surroundings and those around you.”

The concourse in Skelmersdale is a hot spot for Pokemon hunting

Report by Henry James

Lancashire Police have released some advice to help people playing Pokemon Go:

- Communicate with your family or friends to let them know where you plan on going and what time they should expect you back home.
- If you're using the app in a public place, stay alert to what is going on around you - and who is around you.
- Don't trespass on private land or put yourselves and others at risk whilst using the app. Avoid potentially dangerous locations.”

College honours latest Princes Trust graduates

WEST Lancashire College has recently celebrated the end of the latest Prince's Trust team programme Team 47 Skelmersdale.

As the trust is celebrating 40 years, team 47 decided to have a theme called A Right Royal Tea Party.

The young people have taken part in a 12-week course to learn new skills and improve their confidence and motivation.

The learners have been involved in team- building activities, a week-long residential trip, a community project and two weeks of work experience during the course. They have also received advice on how to write CVs as well as gaining nationally recognised qualifications.

Paige Roberts said: “The course has really helped me gain confidence. And after carrying out my two-week work placement at Little Learner West Lancashire College, Ihave now successfully gained an apprenticeship within the childcare industry due to the support from Louise and Lorraine.”

Three in four young people on Prince’s Trust schemes move into work, education or training.

For more information on the next course, which will start on Monday, September 12, call Louise Roberts or Lorraine Murton on 01695 52344 or 07786 361675 or email louise.roberts@westlancs.ac.uk or lorraine.murt@westlancs.ac.uk.

Care group urges providers to join ‘heroes pledge’

SPRINGHILL Care Group, which operates Birch Green Care Home in Skelmersdale, is calling on care professionals and providers to join the Caring Heroes pledge and encourage awareness of the great unseen work being done by care staff.

Caring Heroes was launched earlier this year by Springhill and aims to raise the profile of care staff across the UK who often go the extra mile to look after those under their care.

As part of the campaign, the care group, which operates homes in Lancashire and Bristol, as well as a supported living service, is promoting the work of its own caring heroes.

It is hoped that shining a light on examples of excellent care, often done behind the scenes, will also help staff to share best practice and examples of good work across the group and further afield.

The Caring Heroes campaign has already received backing from MPs and Care England, with Springhill highlighting the work of its staff online and via social media.

The care group is encouraging other care professionals and providers to join the conversation online using the hashtag #caringheroes.

Donna Briggs, managing director at Springhill Care Group, is urging others working in the care sector to follow suit.

She said: “It’s often said that people are the key to any business, and this is certainly true of the care sector.

“Too often the great work being done by staff isn’t talked about and these caring heroes don’t get their time in the spotlight as they deserve.

“The Caring Heroes campaign aims to change this, and put people firmly at front and centre of the care sector.

“There is plenty that care providers and fellow professionals can do, from promoting the work of their own caring heroes through social media using our hashtag, to making it easier for residents and family members to highlight good practise.

“We are encouraging anyone to tell us their stories and share photographs of their own caring heroes and why they’ve been chosen.”

To express support people are encouraged to tell their stories on Twitter using the hashtag #caringheroes

Cloudy2Clear Announce Which? Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted ‘Which Trusted Trader’ status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear’s long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. ‘Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it’s not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don’t focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service Merseyside & surrounding areas and manager Louis Richards agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. ‘The truth is that it’s not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I’ve done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.’

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Louis a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he’ll be happy to help!

Waterlogging forces council to cancel popular Green Fayre

Public encouraged to visit Family Fun event instead to raise funds for military charities

THE annual Green Fayre organised by West Lancashire Borough Council has fallen victim to the unseasonal weather which has plagued the area in the last six weeks.

Council chiefs have reluctantly taken the decision to cancel the event as a result of the persistent heavy rainfall which has left ground conditions at Beacon Country Park heavily waterlogged.

The fayre, a highly popular extravaganza celebrating country life, was due to take place at the park this year on Saturday and Sunday, July 23 and 24.

But with the ground already saturated and more rain forecast, staff from the council's Parks and Countryside Ranger Service were concerned that conditions would be unsafe to hold the fayre.

As the event attracts big crowds and hosts large-scale displays and demonstrations, staff were particularly concerned about the car park as the ground would have struggled to cope with a full weekend of heavy traffic.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, the council's cabinet member for leisure, said: "We are very disappointed to have been forced to cancel the Green Fayre.

"Thousands of people travel from miles around to come to this event which is the most important in our countryside calendar.

"But with the ground in the park being so waterlogged it would have been unsafe to hold the event.

"Next year's show will take place on July 22 and 23 2017 and we very much hope the weather will be kinder to us then so this wonderful event can take place."

Councillor Gagen added: "It is unfortunate that the 2016 Green Fayre has had to be cancelled. However, on the dates that the fayre was scheduled to be held there is a military-themed Family Fun Weekend at Blaguegate playing fields in Skelmersdale that people can enjoy while helping to raise money for military charities at the same time.

"A selection of military vehicles will be on display, while other fun attractions include an inflatable assault course, live bands, climbing walls, bouncy castles, donkey rides and a hog roast."

And despite the fayre being cancelled, the council emphasise that people are still welcome to visit Beacon Country Park and enjoy this beautiful area of local countryside.

However, visitors should always wear suitable footwear and clothing appropriate for the weather and ground conditions.

Council assured St Modwen are committed to town centre regeneration

Report by Henry James

WEST Lancs Council say developers St Modwen have given assurances that they are still committed to the Skelmersdale Town Centre regeneration project - despite the fact that there was no reference to the scheme in the company's half-yearly statement for the North West.

In the statement, Steven Knowles, St Modwen's North West regional director, referred to other projects in the region, including Crosby town centre and the development of 80,000 sq. ft. of retail space at Great Homer Street in Liverpool, but there was no mention of the Skemersdale scheme.

However, the borough council have moved to allay fears that the long-awaited project could again be delayed.

A statement by the authority declared: "St Modwen is still very much involved in the Skelmersdale Town Centre regeneration scheme.

"They will be appearing alongside the council at a Court of Appeal hearing later this year, which will consider the further legal challenge by the owners of the Concourse centre.

"Both parties are still very committed to taking forward the Skelmersdale Town Centre Regeneration scheme."

St Modwen declared pre-tax profits of £30m for the first half of the year, down from £206m during the previous year.

Following the 'Brexit' vote in the EU Referendum, the company's chief executive, Bill Oliver, called for caution in their development strategy and commented: "We are now operating in a period of uncertainty in relation to many factors that impact the property market.

Steven Knowles, St Modwen's North West regional director

"While it is too early to accurately predict how the UK property market will respond, until we have more clarity we believe it is appropriate to take a more cautious approach to the delivery of our development strategy."

However, Steven Knowles was more optimistic. He commented: "The North West region has experienced growth during the first half of the year. We have added a number of strategic acquisitions to our future development portfolio, increased net rental income and sold two assets for which we have recycled the income received back into the business.

"This strong base provides us the resource with which to strengthen our portfolio in the region and we will continue to seek new opportunities where we can add value throughout the second half of the year and beyond."

Health commissioning group recognised by Parliament for region's improvement in cancer survival rates

by Danielle Thompson

THE NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) has been recognised at the House of Commons for the improvements in one-year cancer survival rates in the region.

Representatives from the CCG were invited to attend the All Parliamentary Group on Cancer's (APPG on cancer) summer reception at the Commons by MP John Baron in acknowledgement of the significant work being done in the region around one-year cancer survival rates.

Cancer survival is improving across England. The proportion of people surviving for one year after diagnosis has increased to 70.2%, while in West Lancashire the figure is 72%.

However, there is still some work to be done in order to catch up with countries like Sweden which has an 82% survival rate.

CCGs across the country are now held accountable for improving survival rates with increased scrutiny and are encouraged to diagnose patients quicker and for patients to present at their GP at an earlier stage.

The parliamentary group has set CCGs the task of improving these figures by improving diagnosis at primary care, increasing the number of referral rates to secondary care, increasing cancer awareness campaigns such as Public Health England's 'Be Clear on Cancer' campaign, creating wider cancer screening programmes and an increased focus on supporting cancer survivorship programmes.

Pioneering

Carol McCabrey, senior service redesign manager at West Lancashire CCG, said: "It was great to be invited to the House of Commons and for West Lancashire to be recognised nationally for the pioneering work taking place in the region to improve one-year survival rates.

"One of the key ways that we are able to ensure that we have such high figures is through our partnership working with providers and partners such as Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust to improve cancer pathways.

"One example of the work we are involved in at the moment is working with partners across the region to increase breast cancer screening for vulnerable women.

"We also host regular cancer awareness engagement events, with our next one taking place on Thursday, October 20 in Skelmersdale focussing on breast cancer."

Jackie Brunton lead cancer nurse at Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust, said: "I am delighted to see that our areas are the two most improved in the entire country for one-year cancer survival.

"This is very good news for our patients because these improvements reflect earlier diagnosis and earlier, better treatment of cancer.

"The figures also speak volumes about the hard work and professionalism of our fantastic cancer teams, local GPs and NHS commissioning colleagues."

School leavers sign off with summer panto

Some of the youngsters who took part in the pantomime

YEAR 6 leavers at St Edmund's Catholic Primary School in Skelmersdale signed off by staging an unusual summer pantomime at the school in Windrows.

A packed school hall, brimming with anticipation, was treated to a 'weird-but-wonderful' version of Goldilocks and the Three Bears.

Developed with the help of children's imagination, the original script was littered with 'special guests' as the classic panto was invaded by a Wookie, an Ewok and a pair of daft Stormtroopers from the Star Wars films and even Hans Solo and Yoda were spotted briefly!

Head teacher, Dermot Hennigan, said: "Year 6 proudly performed their fantastic stage show creation with heart-warming and hilarious acting in front of a highly appreciative and emotional crowd. After a special rendition of David Bowie's Heroes to close the show, there wasn't a dry eye in the house! The leavers then majestically bowed out of St Edmund's before embarking on their new high school adventures.

"The Year 6 boys and girls would like to thank their families, friends and the wider school community for their support over the years and for coming to watch Goldilocks and the Three Bears (The Ewok Strikes Back)."

Independents days draw the crowds

Report by Henry James

THE inaugural celebration of independent retailers at the Concourse Shopping Centre in Skelmersdale has been hailed a huge success by organisers.

The centre held three special event days when independent retailers from across the centre offered a range of special promotions, demonstrations and tasters of their products and services at 'pop-up' stalls in the West Square. Children's cartoon characters also helped to keep little ones entertained.

Jennifer Burnett, retail marketing manager at the Concourse, which is owned and managed by London & Cambridge Properties (LCP), said many of the shopkeepers reported increased numbers of shoppers over the three-day event.

"About a third of our shops are independents and it was a brilliant and fun way to work together to highlight their contribution to the centre," she said. "Now we have staged our first one, we hope to build on it so that it gets bigger and better every year."

The Field Fresh stall - manager Colin Tyson was thrilled with the response from shoppers

Colin Tyson, manager of Field Fresh, which has been in the centre for about 30 years, said he was thrilled with the response from shoppers.

"I've worked here for 16 years and in that time there has never been an event dedicated to the independent retailers and it was great to celebrate all that we do," he said.

"It was good to re-connect with old customers, meet new customers and chat about the products we sell, as well as give them some free samples and money-off vouchers."

Search is launched for Skem's budding Bards

TALENTED young wordsmiths in Skelmersdale are being challenged to write a masterpiece inspired by poet and playwright William Shakespeare over the summer holiday in a competition run by by the Friends of Skelmersdale Library.

Organised to mark the 400th anniversary of the Bard's death, the competition will run until 5pm on Tuesday, August 16.

Youngsters taking part can write either a story, or poem inspired by Shakespeare. Entries can take the form of a new version of a play, or even a fictional story about his childhood.

County Councillor Marcus Johnstone, Lancashire County Council's cabinet member for environment, planning and cultural services, said: "This is a chance for children in Skelmersdale to show their creativity and have a go at this challenge.

"What the children submit is really up to them - it's a chance for them to be creative and let their imagination flow."

The competition is divided into two age group categories - four to seven years and eight to 12 years. A prize will be awarded for the best entry in each of the two categories, as judged by the Friends of Skelmersdale Library and library staff.

Entry forms to take part in the competition can be picked up from Skelmersdale Library in Southway.

Anyone who lives in the UK can join a Lancashire library, either online or by visiting in person. Membership is free and there are no age restrictions.

For more information, go to www.lancashire.gov.uk/libraries.

More information about the Friends of Skelmersdale Library is available at @foslfriends or by calling 0300 123 6703.

Teen twosome snap up first prize in shopping centre's 'selfie' competition

A PAIR of young Skelmersdale shoppers are in for a treat after winning a 'selfie' competition at the Concourse Shopping Centre.

Lucky Sophie Fishwick, 14, and 15-year-old Liv Roberts, both from Skelmersdale, won £50 of Concourse shopping vouchers for their fun photo taken during the recent Independent Retailers' Day events.

These saw independent stores across the centre take part in special promotions and activities as part of National Independent Retailer Month.

Shoppers were asked to upload to social media photographs of themselves in the selfie booth, with the children's cartoon characters or just enjoying the events in the centre.

Jennifer Burnett, marketing manager of the Concourse, which is owned and managed by London & Cambridge Properties (LCP), said: "We were keen to get as many people as possible involved in our three days of special events and were delighted to see so many shoppers getting in on the act.

"It was a hard task, choosing our winners!"

As well as the main prize-winners, Belinda and Ange Roberts won a runner-up prize of £10 in Concourse shopping vouchers, while Willow Kier was presented with Paw Patrol goodies and little Theo Cooper won Mickey Mouse merchandise.

Somme commemorative dinner

A SPECIAL commmorative dinner was held at Evermoor Hub Community Centre in Digmoor to mark the 100th anniversary of the Battle of the Somme.

The evening was organised by Skelmersdale Action for Youth leader Alan Lewis MBE, a former member of the Royal Green Jackets 1st Battalion parachute team, and attended by Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Liz Savage, along with more than 40 military veterans and their family and friends.

Alan Lewis said: "We organised the event to commemorate all those who were killed or injured at the Somme. The evening was a great success and enjoyed by members of the ex-servicemmen's club.

"I would like to thank the mayor, who represented the borough council, for attending the dinner and to the veterans who supported the event. I also want to thank Councillor Terry Aldridge and Evermoor Hub for their support."

Organiser Alan Lewis (2nd right) with Mayor of West Lancs Councillor Liz Savage and others guests at the event

Veterans, both male and female, from all three services and family and friends also attended the war memorial in Skelmersdale to commemorate the battle.

Former pro stars in awards night salute to town's junior league footballers

FORMER Liverpool and Everton players, Chris Lawler and Derek Temple, local MP Rosie Cooper and Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Liz Savage, were among the guests when the Skelmersdale Junior Football League staged their end-of-season presentations at the Wardens Social Club in Blaguegate Lane.

Founded in 1972, the league, which is a non-profit organisation, originally catered for youngsters aged between 10 and 12.

Through the years though it has continued to expand and flourish and now administers up to 75 teams in age groups ranging from under-sevens up to under-15s.

And it's not uncommon for the facilities at Liverpool Road to host more than 1,500 people made up of players, team officials and spectators with over 40 games each Sunday.

Meanwhile the facilities at Liverpool Road have evolved along with the league, progressing from a "run-down ramshackle" hut to a state-of-the-art complex boasting six changing rooms with shower facilities, fully-equipped kitchen, admin offices and first-aid station, including a defibrillator.

Chairman of Skelmersdale Junior League, Joe Nelson, said: "I want to thank not only those teams who have won trophies, but those players, managers and coaches who were not fortunate enough to win anything.

"Thank-you also to the club chairmen and secretaries, who work very hard to administer their teams and offer support to the league.

"Most of all, thank-you to all the parents, grandparents and guardians who attend each Sunday - come rain sleet or snow -without whose support the league would not be as vibrant as it is.

"I would also like to thank my committee who work tirelessly behind the scenes on match days to ensure the league runs as smoothly as it can."

"Our gratitude also goes to the committee and staff of the Wardens Club for providing the venue at such short notice. And last but not least, to the residents who live near the club our apologies for any inconvenience and thanks for your patience."

Employers help high school pupils learn interview skills

ENGINEERING company Trelleborg Offshore, based at Stanley Way, Skelmersdale, were among high-profile employers who took part in an employment skills initiative organised by Up Holland High School and held at West Lancashire College.

Aim of the event was to equip Year 10 pupils at the school (aged 14 and 15) with essential skills relating to job applications and interviews.

Participating companies, which also included West Lancs Council, Hotter Shoes, the Co-op Bank, IT Managed Services and the Army, provided the students with a wide variety of interview styles.

Paul Smith, assistant head teacher at Up Holland High, explained: "Pupils took part in 15-minute mock interviews which gave them a fantastic opportunity to practice some important life skills.

"Although they were a bit nervous they learned a lot and this will really help them when they have to apply for college courses, apprenticeships and jobs in the future.

"We are really grateful to local employers for helping us with this event."

Trelleborg were represented at the event by innovation and engineering director, Andrew Garside and human resources director, Andy Wood.

Andy Wood commented: "We both thoroughly enjoyed interacting with the young people at the mock interview day at West Lancashire College.

"Our participation was part of a wider commitment to influencing the development of skills and employability in West Lancashire, as well as promoting the Trelleborg Offshore name to the engineers and chemists of tomorrow."

County earns top marks for free early years education provision

Report by Henry James

LANCASHIRE is among the best places in the UK for good-quality free early education for under-fives, according to the latest figures from the Department for Education.

Their latest results show that more two, three, and four-year-old children in the county benefit from this provision than in other parts of the country.

In Lancashire, 98% of three and four-year-olds receive free early education places, compared to the latest national average of 95%.

The figures show that 69% of two-year-olds take up a place, compared to 68% nationally.

Ofsted also praised the quality of early education. Statistics show that 91% of three and four-year-old children benefit from good or outstanding provision in private, voluntary and independent settings, such as a nurseries, in Lancashire. Nationally, 86% are rated good or outstanding.

The same Ofsted statistics show that 90% of two-year-old children benefit from good or outstanding provision in private, voluntary and independent settings in Lancashire. Nationally the figure is 83%.

County Councillor Matthew Tomlinson

County Councillor Matthew Tomlinson, Lancashire's cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "I'd like to recognise the achievements of all our providers of free early education in Lancashire.

"Their hard work and dedication has raised the quality of our provision to a new high, which is reflected in the large numbers of families taking it up.

"To outstrip both the national average in terms of quality and take-up is a remarkable achievement.

"I'm really proud of these results. They are testament to the excellent partnership working between providers and the county council's Early Education Improvement team.

Rising

"It's great that the overall standard of childcare in Lancashire is up there with the best in the country, but we certainly won't rest on our laurels and will strive to improve our performance even further.

"Take-up of places has been rising for the last five years, along with the quality of those places.

"Early education helps children develop in so many ways and gives parents a helping hand too."

The county council's Early Education Improvement team supports and advises new and established childcare providers across the county.

Village bowlers' diamond milestone

DEDICATED trundlers at a village sporting club were bowled over when they celebrated a sparkling milestone.

Members of the Saracen's Head Bowling Club in Halsall enjoyed a special party to mark the club's 60th anniversary.

Club chairman Charlie Mason, president Hans Hanson, vice-president Sylvia Thompson and club captain, Joyce Harding were joined by members past and present to toast the occasion with Champagne and a celebratory cake - aptly featuring bowlers playing on a green!

Club secretary Eamon Duffy said: "The event went really well – and it didn't rain at all which was great!

"We have been based at the Saracen's Head since 1956 and currently have eight league bowling teams who play almost every day all over the area - from Liverpool to Rainford.

"We also hold a range of social activities and many former members still enjoy the social side of the club, which is fantastic.

"It's wonderful to be a part of the club and to celebrate such a fantastic milestone."

OLD BED RECYCLING SERVICE

Chance for over-50s to kick-start a fitness regime at walking pace!

IF you're over 50 and fancy getting fit, but running's not for you, walking football could be the answer.

Walking football sessions are being held from 12.30 to 1.30pm on Tuesdays and Fridays at Edge Hill University Sports Centre.

Peter Armstrong, sports activator at the Ormskirk university said: "Walking football provides people the opportunity to rediscover the joys of playing the game they love, albeit it at a slighter slower pace than they were once used to.

"It also helps to tackle both physical inactivity and social isolation amongst older men and women.

"We have been running the sessions on a weekly basis for just over a year now and it has been incredibly rewarding to see everyone having fun and playing the game in such high spirits. The camaraderie displayed is great to be a part of.

"And although sessions are predominantly aimed at over-50s, we do welcome all-comers and the sessions often attract students during term time who are just as keen to play!"

Sessions cost £3, or are free with membership to the university's sports facilities.

For more information email campus-sport@edgehill.ac.uk or call 01695 584745.

Residents' concerns over bid to hold late-night events at garden centre

Report by Henry James

RESIDENTS have objected to plans to hold late-night events at the Warbreck Garden Centre in Lathom.

Bosses at the location in Lyelake Lane have submitted proposals for a premises licence which would enable them to sell alcohol and provide entertainment.

The application has been put forward by the owners of Warbreck, Richard and Suzanne Allison. The couple, who live in Formby, want to hold evening events at the garden centre.

They had initially applied for the licence to run till 1am every day of the week, but after meeting with the council's senior environmental health officer, they agreed to alter the operating times on their proposals to 11pm Sunday to Wednesday and midnight on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

However, nine representations have been received from members of the public along with two from Lathom South Parish Council and Paul Cotterill, Councillor for Bickerstaffe ward on behalf of some of the neighbours who live near the premises and are opposed to the application.

IMPACT

A 33-name petition against the granting of the application has also been received.

The residents have raised concerns about potential disturbance from noise and disorderly behaviour despite being advised of the new timings and conditions agreed between the applicant and environment protection.

Resident, Scott Craig, commented: "This is a complete change of usage of the garden centre and is not in keeping with its rural location. Warbreck Garden Centre over the last 10 years has aggressively expanded their business and this is already causing an impact on local residents with light and noise pollution but this is just a step too far.

"My main concerns will be the noise of revellers partying until 1am as the premises face my house. The other major concern will be the nuisance caused by the drunken revellers leaving the premises after they have stopped serving alcohol which will be past 1am.

"There will be noise and disturbance from taxis and cars leaving the premises all evening long and the overspill of people walking home down dark country roads and the potential hazard that it brings.

"The granting of this licence will have a direct negative impact on residents within a half-mile radius of the premises and gravely reduce the quality of life in a small rural area."

Gill Perkins, senior environmental health officer at West Lancs Council, listed a number of requests that the applicant should accept including that any outside area, which is used for the consumption of alcohol, shall cease to be so used at 10pm.

The application was due to be decided by the council's licensing sub-committee last night (Tuesday, July 19).

Rotary awards for community-minded youngsters

Ellen, Sarah and Jacob receive their Rotary Junior Community Awards from the mayor, Cllr. Liz Savage watched by Ormskirk Rotarians Jim Smith and Hazel Lawrenson and head teacher Chris Hackett (left).

A TRIO of community-minded youngsters at a local primary school have been presented with awards after taking part in a scheme which aims to help them become better citizens.

Ellen, Sarah and Jacob, pupils at Burscough Lordsgate Township CE Primary, were presented with Rotary Club of Ormskirk Junior Community Awards by the Mayor of West Lancs, Councillor Liz Savage.

Junior Community Awards are given to Year 6 pupils who have taken part in a Rotary Club' roject which helps them to discover more about their local community and develop their personal skills.

Pupils at the school in Lordsgate Drive have been taking part in the annual scheme for the last three years.

The trio were also congratulated by Ormskirk Rotarians Jim Smith and Hazel Lawrenson and head teacher Chris Hackett.

Skem mourns the passing of town 'character' Tommy Parker

SKEM recently lost another of its great characters with the passing of Tommy Parker.

Tommy lost his battle against the curse of cancer at the far too young age of 58.

Although Tommy moved to Australia a few years ago his heart was always in Skem and it was a joy to see him when he returned for a visit just a few short months ago before he fell ill.

All Tommy's mates in Skem are devastated by the ultimately inevitable but still very sad news of Tommy's passing. We'll organise a get-together where we can have a drink and celebrate his life, because that's what Tommy would have wanted, being quite a decent drinker himself!

Our condolences go out to all Tommy's family - his brothers Ste and Rob, his sister Lynne, his sons Tom and Kev, his partner Annette and the many new friends he'd made in Australia.

If I may, I'd like to finish this tribute to Tommy with one of the many funny stories about the lovable nutcase.

Tommy used to drink in a Skem pub, which for reasons of protecting the landlady who ran it at the time, shall remain nameless.

Tommy was stood at the bar enjoying a well-earned drink having finished a hard day's joinery. His coat was on the floor next to him when the said landlady said to him: "You can't put your coat on the floor."

As there were no coat hooks Tommy replied: "There's nowhere to hang it."

"You'll have to hang it somewhere" came the reply from the landlady.

So Tommy delved into his tool bag producing a hammer and a six-inch nail, drove the nail into the wooden beam above the bar and hung his coat on it.

"There! It's hung up now! That better for you?"

Typical Tommy - legend. We'll all miss him. RIP, Tommy, YNWA.

Peter Etherington, Uppingham, Skelmersdale

Why have they taken our sign down?

WHEN did our sign go?

When we drive off the Stannaught Road roundabout and up Windmill Toad we used to have a lovely sign that said plainly, Up Holland.

It made a lovely difference. It made us realise that we never lived in Skelmersdale.

Something that we paid a premium on our houses to not live in Skelmersdale, or be associated with it.

The sign that gave us Up Holllanders a boundary away from the close proximity to Skem.

We have a gentle reminder that we are re-entering Skelmersdale on the way down Windmill Road, but not a welcome home.

Several of our Up Holland friends would like the sign back. It was already there, a little thing that makes us proud of where we live.

The upkeep of the sign is non-existent, why was it taken down?

Ron Dennis, Daybrook, Up Holland

PICTURE of the week

A walk through the wild grass 'maze' - one of the activities organised by Friends of Bedford Park who joined in Love Parks Week which runs until July 24. The national event, now in it's 10th year, promotes the importance of the UK's parks and green spaces.

Bus users' views wanted on revised services

IN response to requests from West Lancs residents Lancashire County Council agreed to reinstate some of the subsidy to support a revised 3A service 'to operate between Burscough, Skelmersdale and Appley Bridge, changing from three to two buses. Connections were made with the commercial Service 2A at Burscough for through journeys to Ormskirk'.

This is the position of the county council at present, and I understand that having made some alterations to the service the county wish to keep this under review.

I am aware of comments from some residents that this is not working, for instance, that the 3A and 2A services are not connecting up in Burscough.

I would like to encourage anyone who has used this service now or in the past to comment on the usefulness of the present route.

Lancashire County Council need to know whether it is meeting the needs of residents. You can send your comments to: 'Public and Integrated Transport, Community Services at Lancashire County Council.

County Councillor Cynthia Dereli, West Lancashire West ward

Concourse bike ban is a negative move

THE Concourse has already, temporarily, halted progress in Skelmersdale's redevelopment and now they have banned cycles from the centre.

I believe that this is yet another negative move by the Concourse management. I have personally used the cycle stand at the rear of the Concourse and can tell everyone that it is almost useless.

It could not have cost very much to install. The stand consists of a very low wedge for a wheel to fit in to. But it is so low and small that it offers very little or no support for the bicycle at all.

The Concourse management has, for many years, neglected to place well-designed cycle stands inside the centre which would offer shelter from the elements and security from their security personnel.

Come on, Concourse management - if you want to be part of a 'progressive Skelmersdale' start to show it. You owe it to the people of Skelmersdale.

Ron Webster, Skelmersdale

Speed limits are pointless if they aren't enforced

WHAT is the point of marking local side roads with a 20mph limit when it is never enforced?

Black Moss Lane with its narrow bridge on a blind bend seems to attract wannabe racing drivers who obviously mistake the 20 for a 40.

A bit of police presence would not go amiss.

K. O'Brien, Black Moss Lane, Ormskirk

Good luck to Scouts district youth commissioner Rebecca

I RECENTLY read your article concerning the work of Edge Hill student Rebecca Webster who is the new District Youth Commissioner for the Scouts in West Lancashire.

As a young boy of 11, I was a member of the 7th Wigan All Saints Group and at 14 I volunteered for weekend work at Bispham Hall, which was then the South West Lancs official campsite and was for the use of Wigan, Warrington, St Helens, Ormskirk, Southport, and Widnes, as well as youngsters from Liverpool areas. We also had campers from Ireland and the US air force base at Burtonwood.

I started the 3rd Wigan St Thomas's group, closed during the second world war, when I was 19 and at 21 I was appointed a commissioner at Bispham Hall.

After I married I became Group Scout Leader of the 1st Up Holland, then under Wigan district, but was forcefully moved to Ormskirk district by the Boundary Commission.

My late wife was a hard-working fundraiser and later became the manager of a Wigan Scout shop.

In my 60s, along with other retirees, I helped to maintain the HQ in Wigan.

My son became an assistant district commissioner with Ormskirk and the county and led parties of young men and teenagers to learn canoeing and caving. One party he led went to build a school in a remote part of Africa.

A good number of the youngsters that I had the pleasure to teach skills to now have well-paid jobs in the UK and abroad and many went on to university.

I am now 78 and still support the movement. If Miss Webster can achieve what she has set out to do, I wish her all the best for the future.

We need more young people like her to encourage our up-and-coming generations to do something better in life.

If you can offer any support then please do. I know that the system works.

R. Marsh, Up Holland

Council issue stern warning to fly-tippers

DON'T come to West Lancashire to dump your rubbish or you'll pay the price!

That's the message to out-of-borough fly-tippers from the council who are warning that anyone caught illegally dumping waste in West Lancs face heavy fines.

The authority has issued the stern warning - which applies equally to residents - after carrying out two successful prosecutions against men from Merseyside who fly-tipped waste in West Lancashire.

Ormskirk Magistrates Court heard that Robert Jones, of Goldie Street, Anfield, Liverpool was captured on CCTV going to and from The Runnels in Halsall to fly-tip 70 tyres.

Mr Jones didn't attend court but was found guilty of fly-tipping in his absence. He was fined £1,760, and ordered to pay £587.27 costs and a £120 victim surcharge, making a a total of £2,467.27.

In another case on the same day the court heard that Abdellatif Lemsatef, of Kensington, Liverpool, was caught on CCTV in the act of dumping a couch in Great Altcar.

Mr Lemsatef also didn't attend court and was found guilty of fly-tipping in his absence. He was fined £1,100, and ordered to pay costs £502.72 and a victim surcharge of £110.

Councillor Kevin Wright, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for community safety, said: "These are the latest prosecutions obtained by the council with regards to rubbish being disposed of illegally in West Lancashire.

"These cases send a warning to people from outside the borough that if they are caught dumping waste here they are likely to pay a high price for their actions.

An image of fly tipping on White Moss Road, Skelmersdale last year

"The council takes a hard-line approach on these matters, whether the offenders live in West Lancashire or out of the area, and the environmental enforcement team will take action against the culprits wherever possible."

Reminder

Tackling fly-tipping is in line with the Council Plan.

The council would also like to remind all householders that they need to make sure any waste that they have removed is disposed of legally.

Anyone removing waste as part of a business must have a waste carrier's licence and give waste transfer notes to whomever they take waste from.

Householders can check if anyone who removes waste from them has a licence by contacting the Environment Agency on 03708 506506 or going on their website www.gov.uk/government/organisations/environment-agency

If you think waste has been disposed of illegally then you can report this to the council 24 hours a day on the website www.westlancs.gov.uk/flytipping; or by calling 01695 577177 between 8.30am and 5.30pm Monday to Friday.

County council wins national award for scheme to prevent falls

LANCASHIRE County Council has won a national award for its service to prevent people being injured in falls.

The scheme, called Steady On, won the Preventing Avoidable Harms category at the 2016 Patient Safety awards last week.

Steady On is delivered in partnership with the NHS. Running in East Lancashire since 2012, it was introduced across the rest of the county in June.

The scheme provides specific workshops to raise awareness of fall risk factors and how to prevent them; one-to-one home visits for people at higher risk, and advice and information at community events.

County Councillor Azhar Ali, Lancashire's cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: "People aren't always aware of how traumatic falls can be. They can cause serious injuries and massive disruption to people's lives.

"The Steady On scheme is an important part of our plans to ensure people stay fit and well and continue to live independently in their own home for as long as possible. We identify people who may be at risk of being injured by a fall and run group sessions providing practical advice that will help them, and the people who care for them, to ensure their home is safe.

County Councillor Azhar Ali

"For those who have already had a fall or are more likely to fall, we will organise a home visit where a trained health professional can assess hazards and put people in touch with local organisations that will help with measures such as minor adaptations, eye tests and helping people be physically active."

The Patient Safety Awards were presented in Manchester with more than 650 submissions whittled down to 170 in the final stage before 18 winners were chosen.

The awards are organised by the Health Service Journal and Nursing Times. Alastair McLellan, editor of the Health Service Journal, and Jenni Middleton, editor of Nursing Times, said: "Each of the winners have demonstrated excellence in their particular field of expertise at a time when budgets and other constraints have made it harder than ever to provide safe, effective care."

Commenting on Lancashire County Council's entry, the judges said: "Fantastic multi-agency approach county-wide. Superb first level intervention, co-designed and co-produced with patients and families. An excellent example of the power of sharing data."

Charity says 44% of cancer patients in region not told about possible side effects of treatment

NEARLY half of cancer patients in the North West say that future side effects of treatment were not fully explained to them, according to a survey.

Responding to the Cancer Patient Experience Survey (CPES) for England, cancer charity Macmillan estimates that, among those who felt they needed it, 44% of cancer patients in the region say they didn't receive adequate information about potential long-term side effects such as heart conditions, incontinence or infertility.

Old age care concerns

ONE in five people in the North West have no idea who will care for them in old age, according to a survey for private healthcare group Bupa.

Nearly three quarters (72%) think they will have care needs in older age, but only around half (48%) expect their family to care for them.

The survey also reveals that old age is a regular consideration, with 21% of respondents thinking about what life will be like in old age a few times a week – 14% think about it every day.

The research reveals that just over a quarter (27%) of respondents feel older people are valued by society.

Professor Graham Stokes, Bupa's global director of dementia care, says: "The perception that older people aren't valued by society is concerning and needs to be addressed.

"The proportion of people over 80 is expected to increase almost fourfold over the next 50 years, the role they play as well as their needs and desires should be recognised.

"It's clear from the research that people have some realistic concerns about their needs and potential health challenges in old age."

New fund could help borough's needy stay warm this winter

'FUEL-poor' residents in the borough are being urged to take advantage of a new funding scheme to winter-proof their homes this summer - before the cold weather kicks in.

Qualifying homeowners and tenants across Lancashire can apply for the new fund to install first-time central heating systems to properties.

The Central Heating Fund, secured by the Cosy Homes in Lancashire (CHiL) partnership, will be managed by Blackburn with Darwen Council, but will be open to all qualifying residents from the 14 local council areas in the county.

The £2.25m pot is expected to supply and fit 900 new central heating systems before the start of the autumn.

To qualify, residents must be classed as 'fuel-poor' meaning that the cost of keeping their house warm pushes them below the poverty line.

This is the case for around 71,000 homes in Lancashire.

Residents receiving benefits such as pension credit, child tax credit, income-based jobseeker's allowance, income support, working tax credits or universal credit may also be eligible.

To see whether you qualify for a free new central heating system, call 0336061488, email info@chil.co.uk.com or visit www.chil.uk.com.

West Lancs residents may be eligible for help to install central heating systems in their homes

Police commissioner welcomes 60 new recruits to force

Report by Danielle Thompson

SIXTY new recruits joining Lancashire's police force have been welcomed by the ccounty's police and crime commissioner, Clive Grunshaw.

As part of his commitment to defending frontline policing, the commissioner is investing £2m in the workforce.

The new officers, who are now undergoing training, will be followed by another 120 officers by January 2017.

The force was inundated with applications following the recruitment campaign announced last year to replace retiring officers or those who have recently left the force.

Mr Grunshaw said: "Policing is changing and these recruits are joining at a challenging but exciting time for Lancashire Police. I have fought hard to protect funding for the police and safeguard vital jobs so I am delighted to be welcoming our newest officers.

"Residents rightly value having a visible police presence and we need to invest now to maintain officer numbers over the coming months. These officers have a vital role to play in keeping Lancashire safe and I'd like to congratulate them on getting through the recruitment process and wish them luck for future."

Chief constable Steve Finnigan added: "The way we police our communities has changed significantly over recent years and we were keen to recruit resilient individuals with a high level of empathy to meet the demands of modern-day policing.

"All those recruited have extensive experience of dealing with vulnerable members of the community, in particular those with a background in mental health. We'd like to wish them all the very best in their future police career."

Following their training, all student officers will work with a tutor constable for 10 weeks, before they are assessed prior to being signed off for independent patrol. They will then serve a two-year probationary period.

The recruits will be posted across the region and some will join the force's Early Action teams working to help prevent people from becoming vulnerable members of society or entering a life of crime by intervening before individuals reach crisis point.

CPS report shows region has highest conviction rate for hate crime

THE North West of England has the highest conviction rate for hate crime prosecutions, according to a report published by the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS).

In the past year, 87% of hate crimes prosecuted in Greater Manchester, Lancashire and Cumbria resulted in a conviction. Nationally there were convictions in 83.2% of hate crime prosecutions.

The report also shows that the CPS in the North West prosecuted more cases of disability hate crime last year than in 2014/15 and achieved an improved conviction rate of 81.5% for these offences.

There has also been an improvement in the conviction rate in the North West for homophobic and transphobic hate crime, with convictions in nearly 86% of cases, and in crimes against older people with a conviction rate of 85.1%.

Claire Lindley, chief crown prosecutor, CPS North West Area, said: "Hate crime creates fear. It is an attack on the identity of the person who has been targeted and it has a devastating impact on people's lives and on communities.

"In the past year 87% of hate crime prosecutions in the North West have resulted in a conviction. I hope this report will give people in the North West confidence that when they report a hate crime it will be taken seriously and I hope it will encourage others who have been the victim of a hate crime incident to report it to police.

"It also sends a warning to those who abuse or assault someone because of hate or prejudice: where we have evidence we will bring prosecutions."

College learners dig in to give community centre gardens a welcome makeover

The Pathways learners at the Birchwood Centre, Skelmersdale

Mission accomplished!

PATHWAY learners at West Lancashire College have recently completed their community project at the Birchwood Centre in Skelmersdale.

During the course of the project the learners, aged 16 to 18, studying Pathways entry three, level one and two, have been able to explore their strengths and develop skills that are transferable to other programmes of study.

The community project focuses largely on their teamwork skills and they have undertaken a wide range of fundraising activities, including a fitness challenge and raffle in college in order to buy the equipment required to complete the project.

Learners have been working on renovating the three gardens at the Birchwood Community Centre. The team made improvements to the practical facilities and boundaries, lawns and patio areas. They worked hard to clear weeds and design and build flower beds.

Barbara Mooney, manager at the Birchwood Centre, said: "The Pathways learners and staff have made a huge difference to the gardens at the centre. They are now pleasant places for young people to sit, socialise and chill out.

"This has taken real hard work and tenacity and they made a brilliant effort to fundraise to pay for the materials they needed.

"The staff and residents are very grateful for their contribution. It was a pleasure to have them at the centre, their enthusiasm and humour was inspiring. They are a credit to the college."

Course tutors, Ryan, Tina and Nikie, added: "We are all very proud of what the learners have achieved. They all worked extremely hard, have worked well as a team and have all been a pleasure to work with."

Beatles and fish take centre stage at Summer auction

A prized collection of Beatles memorabilia, including a signed personal letter from Sir Paul McCartney, was auctioned at Thomas Watsons of Darlington for more than £1,700, closely followed by a preserved 102-year-old trout that sold for a whopping £1,300.

The Beatles lots – that also featured several signed photographs of the band and some early edition singles – were collected by a fan who wrote to Paul McCartney just as The Beatles were becoming popular in the early 1960s and he replied from his Liverpool address with a letter and some photos.

The lady went on to meet Paul McCartney on several occasions and bought all The Beatles' later hit singles – some of which were also signed. A selection of these records formed part of the collection, which was sold at the Summer Antiques Catalogue Sale on 21 June to an Internet bidder.

David Elstob, auctioneer and valuer at Thomas Watsons, said the auction house was delighted to have been asked by the owner (who still lives in Liverpool), to sell these treasures. "It was a strange sensation to hold in your hands items signed by the Fab Four. The letter itself contained chatty phrases such as "nice to hear from you", "cheerio" and "good luck" and was signed off "Love Paul McCartney xxx".

"It's interesting to know that the band did enter into such personal correspondence with their fans and gives a fascinating insight into the more human side of the megastardom that was to accompany Beatlemania," he added.

The letter itself sold for £800 and two early, signed singles – Please Please Me (1963) and From Me To You (1963) – reached £180 and £220 respectively. The total amount bid for the collection was £1,725.

If The Beatles were the human stars of the Summer Catalogue Sale then another more surprising result came from the sale of a preserved trout caught just over a century ago by a fisherman named Alan Rigsby on Lough Mask in County Mayo, Ireland in June 2014.

Now displayed in a bow fronted case with a label identifying the taxidermist as J Cooper & Sons, 28 Radnor Street, St Lukes, London, the trout sold way above its guide price of £300 to £500 and was finally knocked down for £1,300. Its original weight was 4lb.

Jewellery and watches also reached high prices in the Summer Antiques Sale, which is one of the auction house's four prestigious seasonal catalogue sales. A Breguet gentleman's 18 carat gold wristwatch reached £3,200 and a Jaeger Le Coultre gentleman's stainless steel wristwatch sold for £2,600.

Vintage trout: A 102-year-old trout reached £1,300 in the Summer Antiques Catalogue Sale.

Love me do!: An early letter from Paul McCartney to a fan was one of the highlights of a collection of Beatles' memorabilia.

Applicants wanted for new TV dating show

LONELY hearts in West Lancs are being invited to apply to appear on a racy new television dating show.

Undressed, which first appeared on the TLC channel last Friday (July 15) requires entrants to undress each other down to just their underwear for their first date!

In the show, the singletons will spend 30 minutes alone together in the same bed, wearing nothing but their underwear while a super-sized screen poses probing questions and sets tasks designed to rapidly foster relationships.

When the time is up the couples must make their decision – stay in bed and continue the date or leave the room.

Producers are currently casting for future episodes until the end of next month and are keen to hear from men and women aged 18 and upwards.

To apply for the show, visit www.rdftelevision.com/productions.

My 'Micawber Hat' has lost its magic touch!

I WAS thumbing through some old editions of the Champion last night and came across a 'Dog' column where I was banging on about my 'Micawber Hat' and its efficacy in ensuring that no matter how bleak the prospect, something would turn up. Oh, happy days.

I'm afraid the old hat seems to have become a bit shabby and mildewed of late. Certainly things continue to turn up, but the poor old thing seems to have forgotten that what you are after are good things to turn up, not a succession of bad ones.

In fact, this year started quite well, with the prospects for the coming summer seeming good, the two (hairy) dogs being taken for nice long walks and my house supplied with electricity!

I wish I could turn the clock back, say to the beginning of March. But that's one thing the 'Micawber Hat' couldn't do, even in its prime.

Actually, re-reading what I have written it does give the impression of maudlin self-pity, and I suppose to an extent that is just what I feel. After all, all the plans I was busy making for this summer have gone right out of the window.

The flesh may be somewhat weak but the spirit is still willing. Every couple of weeks I re-write my plans for what is left of the summer in the hope that they may still come true.

I am still determined that my 51-year-old motor cruiser, Manxman will attend a gathering of classic wooden boats at Beccles in Suffolk in company with our sister ship, Mona's Queen, towards the end of September, come rain or high water! And if for any further calamitous reason I don't, the 'Micawber Hat' is in great danger of becoming a feature at some Bonfire Night party!

But enough of this, let's get onto shopping. I am not one of those people who spends hours looking for bargains but I keep my eyes open and have a fair idea of where a real bargain can be had.

I happen to like - very much - cranberry juice (the relatively expensive brand simply because it has more cranberries in it). I was in a well-known supermarket the other day (to be fair it could have been any well-known supermarket) and spotted a shopper with a litre box of said juice in her basket. I could, and probably should, have pointed out that instead of spending well over £1, she could have nipped more or less across the road to one of the 'cheap shops' and bought a 1.5 litre box of the same stuff for exactly £1!

I didn't because I didn't want to give offence. There are still folk around who don't want cut-price shops in their shopping centre, lowers the tone don't you know?

But to be fair, these days even the big boys like Sainsbury's, Morrisons and Tesco do have their bargains, if you look. The only difficulty with that I have found is that it's all too easy to end up with a heap of 'bargains' that you didn't really want.

Anyway, back to the hat...

Over the years it has always been a good friend to me, so I suppose I should make allowances. Trouble is that if you have an old friend who has helped you out of many a scrape going right back to your school days, you come to depend on it. And since the 'Micawber Hat' is just a figment of my imagination (a useful one though) I suppose in the end it comes back once again to my dear old mum and her 'It's your own fault!'

So, looking back, I suppose are my various problems of today, though to be fair most of them would hardly have been easily apparent at the time. I have known since I was a young man that I have (or had) high blood pressure. And by the year 2016, I reckoned that since it had done me no apparent harm in 69 years, it was hardly a big worry. Silly boy.

Though now my problem, apparently, is too low blood pressure! And I would have thought that high blood pressure is infinitely better than no blood pressure at all?

Care home initiative is helping to bridge the generation gap

Report by Danielle Thompson

Abbey Wood Lodge resident Ron Snowdon enjoys time with mum and baby group member Linzie Stock and her daughter Sophie

MUMS and babies have been enjoying getting involved in an initiative aimed at bringing together different generations of the community.

Staff at Abbey Wood Lodge care home in County Road, Ormskirk launched their Connecting Generations initiative earlier this year to help their elderly residents and friends to spend more time with younger members of the community.

And they teamed up with Dimples Childminders in Ormskirk to hold monthly group sessions with residents, mums-to-be, mums and their babies and toddlers.

Lesley Malone, events co-ordinator at Abbey Wood Lodge, said: "This has been a fantastic initiative for the residents, especially when you hear them telling stories about when their own children and grandchildren were teething, having high fevers or not sleeping at night.

"We are hoping to extend the initiative by teaming up with primary and secondary schools, colleges and Edge Hill University."

Gaye Clark, head of Athena Healthcare Group, which runs the home, added: "We intend to carry on bridging the generation gap between our residents and the younger generation in the community and involve families in order to carry on the full active quality of lifestyle the homes residents are having.

"Anybody who would like to is welcome to come along and be part of the group."

Civic recognition for Timesavers team

Councillor Furey with members of Timesavers and their awards

THE Deputy Mayor of West Lancs has presented awards to members of a West Lancs charity for adults with learning disabilities.

Councillor Neil Furey attended a volunteer awards evening at the borough council's offices in Ormskirk for members of Timesavers, a charity which aims to help adults with learning disabilities to gain employment by giving them work experience.

Earlier this year, the West Lancs charity, set up by a group of parents in 2010, was awarded £10,000 from the Big Lottery Fund to fund sessional workers, travel and office materials.

Charity trustee, Edward McCarthy, said: "Timesavers members received a certificate and had their photograph taken with the deputy mayor before enjoying a light buffet and drinks in the mayor's parlour."

Young divers aim to make a splash...

TWO talented youngsters from West Lancashire are aiming to make a splash in the world of diving after training with double Commonwealth Games champion Jack Laughter.

Jenna Byrne, 11 and nine-year-old Holly Curran, who are members of Burscough Diving Club (formerly Diving 4 Fun) were invited to train with Team GB divers at the Leeds Elite Beacon Training Programme by national diving coach, Ady Hinchclife.

The girls, who are currently the North West regional champions for their age groups, will attend weekly sessions led by members of the GB coaching team. Over the next few months, they will have their progress monitored and assessed to help them to hone their skills.

A club spokesman said: "During their first session, Jack Laughter, arguably the No. 1 diver in the world on the three-metre springboard, took time out of his busy schedule while training with his GB teammates for this year's Olympics in Rio.

"Both girls only started a structured programme last November so for them to be invited to attend the Beacon programme - who only invite the best young divers - is a real credit to their talent and dedication.

"Hopefully in a few years if they continue to develop we will see our small club who train at the Nye Bevan Pool in Skelmersdale represented at the Olympics."

Historian gives talk on horrors of the Somme

Bill Huyton shows a British sniper's scope to 15-year-old Tom Ward with historians Richard Hoghton, Jean Gidman and Pam Nanson looking on

CHAIRMAN of the Ormskirk and District Family History Society, Bill Huyton gave a talk entitled 'A different appreciation of the Somme' at the town's libary in Burscough Street.

As well as describing the horrors faced by soldiers going 'over the top', the talk outlined some of the reasons for the battle in northern France which started on July 1, 1916.

Bill also showed photographs of the area as it is now and spoke about his great-uncle who was born in Aughton and died at the battle while serving with the Salford Pals.

Local historian Richard Houghton also gave a display with more details of men from Ormskirk and the surrounding areas who fought during the battle which raged for 141 days until November.

Members of the WLMGOC displayed their beloved motors at the Cross House Inn in Formby

Formby date for car enthusiasts

MEMBERS of the West Lancs MG Owners' Club held their latest monthly meeting at the Cross House Inn in Formby.

Steve Kirton from the club said: "The Cross House Inn is a traditional pub which was a very attractive Victorian house in its day. The weather was still very sunny when we arrived and although turning a little grey as the night fell in, it was still warm enough to sit out with a light jacket or jumper.

"Nineteen members turned out, plus another two prospective members and the cars on show were one MG TA, two MGFs, six MGBs, a RV8, two MG TFs and one MG Midget, along with a trusty VW camper van and a BMW Z4.

"The line-up caused quite a stir with many visitors coming out of the pub and coming over for a chat.

"Our thanks to the management and staff for the use of the car park and their hospitality."

Pals' grand effort for charity

FIVE workmates who teamed up to tackle a fun run raised more than £1,000 for a West Lancs-based charity.

Andrew Youds, Rachael Carragher, Jess Griffin, Ciaran Lea, Harry Lea and Steven Lynch, who all work at NSW Properties in Ormskirk, took part in the Southport 10k Run aiming to raise around £500 for Rainbow House in Mawdesley, which offers rehabilitation, education and fun for children, young people and adults with neurological conditions.

But the fab five have already more than doubled their target figure with £1,086 raised to date and donations are still coming in.

Andrew, Jess and Ciaran - visited Rainbow House to see the facilities and meet the staff.

Still no plan to end floods misery, says MP

DESPITE holding talks with the relevant government minister and chairing a forum for local agencies, Rosie Cooper believes they are no nearer to finding a solution to the recurring flooding problems suffered by the borough.

The West Lancs MP said the only answer from the agencies seemed to be that residents and businesses should get their own sandbags and help each other!

The MP recently met with Rory Stewart, parliamentary under-secretary of state with responsibility for floods and water at the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs, seeking action to help local communities devastated by flooding and for support ahead of five satellite pumping stations being turned off in 2017.

But following the meeting she said: "It is clear the government policy is one of clean up and repair rather than prevention when it comes to flooding.

"From speaking to the minister his opinion is that local agencies can and should be doing more in times of floods and in flood prevention. He said the strategic lead flood authority, Lancashire County Council, should be actually taking the lead in the emergency response when there is flooding and that it's their job to help people, not just collect the data and write the reports afterwards, which I think will come as a surprise to them.."

Bringing the minister's message back to West Lancs, Ms Cooper organised and chaired a flooding forum attended by representatives of key local agencies and 29 local residents from across the borough who have been affected by flooding.

Rosie Cooper pictured with Keith Ashcroft of the Environment Agency and minister Rory Stewart at the meeting in the Commons.

Summarising the outcome of the forum, the MP said: "Understandably residents feel angry and alone - we heard of homes being flooded on six occasions!

"West Lancashire has been hit by severe flooding in 2012, Boxing Day 2015 and in June 2016 but still no lessons have been learned, there are no apparent improvements and no progress on addressing long-term problems such as infrastructure capacity.

"Residents also wanted to know why Lancashire County Council and the Environment Agency had bought a pump for Croston whilst West Lancashire is facing having five pumps turned off."

The forum was attended by representatives from the Environment Agency, Lancashire County Council, Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service, Lancashire Police, the National Farmers Union, United Utilities and West Lancashire Borough Council. A further meeting will be held in November.

Date revealed for H'boro 96 to be awarded Freedom of Liverpool

Report by Tom Martin

The Hillsborough 96 will be honoured in September

A DATE has been revealed for when the 96 Hillsborough victims will be awarded the Freedom of the City of Liverpool.

Those who were tragically killed, along with key campaigners who fought for truth and justice, will be given the special honour at the city's St George's Hall on Thursday, September 22.

During the service, families of the 96 will receive a specially designed scroll and a unique medal with the name of their loved one inscribed on it.

Joining them in receiving the highest civic honour will be Kenny and Marina Dalglish, former Edge Hill University staff member, Professor Phil Scraton, and the Right Reverend Bishop James Jones.

Mayor of Liverpool, Joe Anderson, said: "When we announced we intended to give the 96 and the key Hillsborough campaigners Freedom of the City back in May, we received an overwhelming reaction from people who were proud that Liverpool was acknowledging these individuals in this special way.

"The Hillsborough campaign was a long, heartbreaking journey for all involved. It seemed fitting that after the latest inquests brought the families the truth and justice outcome that they had fought so hard for, we mark this monumental moment by awarding the 96, and those outstanding individuals who have given them their support, with the city's highest honour.

"The 96 paid the ultimate price for the failings and actions of others, and I hope this tribute will show their families and friends that this city will never forget them, and that we thank those individuals who fought for the truth and played a pivotal role in the 27 year campaign."

The medals and framed scrolls will be on public display a day before on Wednesday, September 21 between 10am and 5pm at Liverpool Town Hall.

Lord Mayor of Liverpool, Councillor Roz Gladden, said: "To be Lord Mayor at a time when we are bestowing the city's highest civic honour on the 96 and those who played a key role in the fight for justice is an incredible honour. I'm sure it will be an emotional evening and I'm proud to represent the city as we pay this special tribute."

Martin Mere news

Kingfishers have been delighting visitors to WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre this week by feeding and displaying in front of the hides.

Reserve Manager, Tom Clare, said: "Everyone loves to see kingfishers and it is great that more and more of these birds are using the site as a feeding site, we have had definite sightings of two females and one male. We have been putting out extra kingfisher perches to ensure our visitors can get really good photographs of them."

The kingfishers are being seen regularly from the Ron Barker hide on the nature trail and the centre has been getting lots of positive comments from visitors. Jill Rigby, from Bickerstaffe, said: "I have always wanted to see a kingfisher and I really wasn't disappointed, it was absolutely fantastic and I am still talking about it a week later."

The two kingfishers in the photograph, taken by Paul Scott, are believed to be two females, one adult and one juvenile – you can tell the difference between males and females due to the orange colouration on the lower bill; males have a pure black bill.

Tom continued:"It is a great time to come and see this amazing bird and its bright blue and orange colours, you will need to be patient, but you won't be disappointed".

In other news at the centre, the nine GIANT LEGO® Brick Animals are all in their new homes for the summer in the grounds at Martin Mere. You can come along all summer to meet them including Fred the Frog, Kate the Kingfisher and Natalie the Nene and get a nature explorer sticker for completing the LEGO brick animal trail and 7 other activities to become a gold Nature Explorer at our daily award ceremony.

Starting from Saturday 23 July, Martin Mere will be running two LEGO workshops everyday at 11am and 1pm. Our one hour workshops are perfect for young LEGO® fans, completing three exciting challenges: making ducklings, cars and your own frog and fly to take home. Spaces are limited so it is advised to book online at wwt.org.uk/martinmere before you visit. The cost is £8.50 per child and it is advised for ages over 4.

WWT Martin Mere is open every day from 9.30am to 6pm and parking is free of charge. Situated off the A59, it is signposted from the M61, M58 and M6. The Centre is also accessible via the Southport to Manchester and the Liverpool to Preston line by train from Burscough Rail Stations. Visit the web site http://www.wwt.org.uk/martinmere/ to find out what's on all year round at Martin Mere and the other eight centres.

Katie Maddison (front) with guests at the Rainbow House Summer Ball

Summer ball raises £16,300 for charity

OFFICIALS of a West Lancashire-based charity are celebrating after an annual fundraising event raked in a five-figure sum.

The Summer Ball, held at Formby Hall Golf Resort and Spa, raised a grand total of £16,300 for the Rainbow House charity in Salt Pit Lane, Mawdesley, which offers rehabilitation, education and fun for children, young people and adults with neurological conditions.

The event is organised by Lisa and Paul Maddison whose nine-year-old daughter Katie has attended conductive education sessions at the charity since she was 18 months old.

During the evening, Katie used the parallel bars to show guests the progress she has made thanks to the charity.

After enjoying a welcome drink on arrival, 200 guests sat down to a three-course dinner followed by live entertainment from Viva Brasil dancers, who gave their time as a donation to the charity. There was also an auction, with prizes including a moped, glass sculptures and a diamond pendant.

Carole Cochrane, chief executive at Rainbow House, said "It was a lovely evening and everyone had a great time

"Our thanks go to Lisa and Paul Maddison for their hard work in making the event so successful and to all the guests for helping raise such a fantastic amount."

Parkrunners' silent tribute to victims of Nice terror attack

MEMBERS of a running club in Ormskirk held a minute's silence for the 84 victims of the Nice terror attack at their weekly run at the weekend.

Following the attack on Thursday (July 14) Ormskirk Parkrun director Peter Dolan decided to remove the club's 'Bastille Day' theme for their run on the Saturday (July 16).

Originally they had planned to celebrate the occasion lightheartedly by singing French songs and running in stereotypically French clothing, including berets.

The Ormskirk Parkrun is a 5k run for all ages and abilities held each Saturday at Edge Hill University along the trail around the edge of the playing field.

One of the organisers, Paul Cotterill, told the Champion: "We hold the run each week and we often give a nod to topical issues.

"We decided to theme last week's run on Bastille Day as Peter, who organised the run, lived in France himself for many years and speaks French.

"He wanted to celebrate Bastille Day with a bit of fun, including wearing costumes and singing the French National Anthem La Marseille.

"However, following the tragic events in Nice we thought that although it might be seen as solidarity, it could also have given offence if we gave the impression that we were downplaying the gravity of the attack.

"So instead, we held a minute's silence to mark the tragedy and removed the French theme.

"As we had been planning to celebrate Bastille Day and because of our 'French connection' through Peter we wanted to show our support for the people of France in the wake of this horrific attack."

The Railway Children is coming to Southport

The Railway Children steaming into resort

THE family classic The Railway Children is to be performed alfresco in the Community garden at Kings Garden Southport on Sunday, July 24 at midday and 2.30pm.

The production is in association with Sefton Council and is a repeat visit for Pendle Productions who brought Wind In The Willows and Alice in Wonderland, to great acclaim, to the Gardens last year.

This production is one of eight that are being presented around the borough this summer on a whistle stop tour of all of Sefton Council's parks with a different production each week on Sundays.

This Sunday sees the sound of steam engines, Victoriana and the age of innocence where children wave from bridges at passing steam trains.

Follow the enchanting tale about the fortunes and adventures of Roberta, Peter and Phyllis after they move from London to a house near a railway line in the country.

Roberta reads an old newspaper and discovers where their father really is and all the children take part in the adventure of a lifetime.

Pendle Productions The Storytellers retell the past as if it were today. Using song, and dramatic action to transport people back to the golden age of steam.

The production takes place in the surroundings of the Community Garden's, Kings Garden's at Southport - so people are being advised not to forget their picnic and a blanket.

The show is ideally suited to those aged four and above and is sure to entertain and enthral. The production lasts for just over an hour in length. It is performed in an alfresco environment and there will be shelter provided if the weather is inclement.

Further details or tickets can be obtained online at www.summertheatretickets.co.uk or by telephoning the freephone number 0800 7880526.

Former James Bond star visiting town

FOLLOWING the huge success of his tours over the last four years, Sir Roger Moore, the legendary film star who played the iconic role of James Bond in seven movies, will return with a new tour for 2016 and will be at Southport Theatre on Tuesday, November 22 at 7.30pm.

Sir Roger, 88, has enjoyed more than 70 years in showbusiness and the evening is a celebration of his extraordinary life and career, with inside stories and exclusive anecdotes ranging from his internationally-renowned TV series The Saint and The Persuaders, through to Hollywood blockbusters and, of course, the 007 films, in which he starred as James Bond between 1973 and 1985.

Gareth Owen will interview Roger. Gareth is an author and has worked with Moore on his autobiography My Word Is My Bond.

Supporting the most vulnerable

COMMUNITY REABLEMENT WORKERS
£7.61 - £7.78 per hour

We need warm, caring and positive people to promote our person centred ethos and work in close partnership with families and other agencies to encourage our service users in gaining independence through their rehabilitation programme.

Working as part of our Reablement Team in Sefton, you will work towards supporting individuals in returning to their home after a hospital visit or change in their circumstances. You will encourage and motivate our service users to regain their life skills and independence, whilst helping them to gain confidence and fulfil their goals within an agreed timeframe.

This vacancy is a mobile position working within the community, therefore it is essential that applicants must hold a current UK driving licence and have access to a car for work purposes. Experience not essential.

IN RETURN WE WILL OFFER YOU:

SHARED LIVES OFFICER (32 hours)
£19005 - £21600 pro rata

New Directions' Shared Lives Scheme provides an alternative choice to traditional residential care for adults with learning disabilities who require support and enables the individual to share in family and community life, promoting independent living. The main aspects of this post involve working closely with Shared Lives Carers and vulnerable service users to assess, train, monitor and support people to become Shared Lives Carers, and to assess, match and support adult service users to live with Shared Lives Carers, monitoring their placement to ensure all their assessed needs are fully met, and that they share in the family life of their Shared Lives Carers.

An Enhanced DBS disclosure will be required for both of these roles.

Please contact the HR Team on 0151 934 2836 to request an application pack.

(TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF THROUGH TRAFFIC) ORDER 2016
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Lancashire County Council have made an Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, as amended, the effect of which is to prohibit temporarily any traffic from proceeding over those lengths of Public Footpath No's 28 and 13 (part), Simonswood, Borough of West Lancashire, indicated below:-
Public Footpath No. 28 Simonswood, West Lancashire commencing at Point A, (GR SD 4293 0212), near Brookfield Farm, Simonswood, West Lancashire and running in a generally south easterly direction for a distance of approximately 624 metres to Point B (GR SD 4335 0170) and its junction with FP29 Simonswood, West Lancashire.
Part of FP13 Simonswood, West Lancashire commencing at Point B (GR SD 4293 0212) and running in a generally south westerly direction for a distance of approximately 192 metres to Point C (GR SD 4328 0152) at its junction with Simonswood Brook, Simonswood, West Lancashire.
The closure is necessary due to works proposed to be and being executed on or near the footpaths, said works being the construction of a new pipeline.
Access for pedestrians to any premises situated on or adjacent to the footpaths, or to any other premises accessible for pedestrians from, and only from, the footpaths, will be maintained at all times.
Nothing in the order shall apply to emergency service vehicles.
The Order will be operative from the 22nd July, 2016, for a period of 6 months or until the works are completed within this period.
IAN YOUNG, Director of Governance, Finance & Public Services, Christ Church Precinct, County Hall, PRESTON PR1 8XJ

NOT PART OF THE STATUTORY NOTICE
The plan on site shows the route to be closed as A-B-C. Lancashire County Council is informed that no alternative route is provided. Please contact the Rights of Way Team on 01772 533722 if necessary.

LANCASHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL
(DICCONSONS LANE, HALSALL & FORMBY LANE, HALLSAL, WEST LANCASHIRE BOROUGH)

(TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF THROUGH TRAFFIC) ORDER 2016
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Lancashire County Council have made an Order under Section 14(1) (a) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, as amended, the effect of which will be to temporarily prohibit traffic on the roads set out in this notice.
1. No person shall cause any motor vehicle, Cycle or Pedestrian to proceed over:
Dicconsons Lane, Halsall from its junction with Rosemary Lane to outside Blundell House WTW.
Formby Lane, Halsall from its junction with Green's Lane for approx. 25 metres westbound.
2. The prohibitions will be operative as follows;
Dicconsons Lane from 0900 hours on Monday 1st August 2016 until 1700 hours on Friday 5th August 2016 or until completion of the works within this period.
Formby Lane from 0900 hours on Monday 8th August 2016 until 1700 hours on Friday 12th August 2016 or until completion of works within this period.
3. An alternative route for vehicular traffic affected by the closure is via:
Dicconsons Lane – B5195 Broad Lane – A5147 Delf Lane – A5147 Wanishar Lane – A5147 Southport Road – A5147 New Street – Summerwood Lane – Narrow Lane – Halsall Lane and vice versa.
A5195 Formby Lane – A59 Northway – A570 Southport Road – A5147 Gorusch Lane – A5147 Halsall Road – A5147 New Street – A5147 Southport Road – A5147 Wanishar Lane – A5147 Delf Lane and vice versa.
The temporary prohibition is necessary to allow utilities works to be carried out.
Authority given for this Order to be made: Michael White, Network Regulation Manager, Lancashire Highway Services, 0300 123 6701 [Ref: HRiT/3347/WH]

Ooh la la! It's the perfect time for a French revival with big family cars

Life On Cars
www.lifeoncars.co.uk

IF SOUTHPORT really is the Paris of The North then I'd like to nominate it for an ambitious new automotive project. We should use the resort as a pilot scheme for reintroducing the Big French Car to Britain's roads.

The Big French Car is a species not so much on life support in this country as completely dead and buried, consigned to a much earlier grave than the rest of Europe because we're far more interested in what BMW, Audi and Mercedes have to offer. Citroen's decision to can the C5 a few months ago is a case in point.

It's alive and well on the continent, but last year we Brits bought just 237 of them. Not a lot for what's meant to be the Gallic answer to Ford's Mondeo.

Yet if a business trip I've just taken to Normandy is anything to go by then we really ought to be slowly but surely reintroducing the endangered breed that is the Big French Car back to Britain. If the new Renault Espace is anything to go by, big wafty motors from the other side of the Channel started getting interesting the moment we bid them adieu.

In the course of a weekend I saw plenty of French families happily tootling around in something that no longer looks like a van with windows and suddenly has a rather rakish quality.

Convert the French price into English and you're looking at a £29k car – £3,000 more than Volkswagen's Sharan but worth it for something that looks more like a high speed train than a minibus.

The current Renault Espace is far more exciting than its MPV rivals on sale here in the UK

It's the same story elsewhere in Renault's range; the big new Talisman saloon looks fantastic and our French friends can have a neat estate version of the current Clio, but neither of these are available in the UK. Citroen, meanwhile, has announced a follow-up to its fabulous C6 luxury saloon, which is as likely to see a UK showroom as Boris Johnson is to see a friendly face in Brussels. Peugeot's a little better, with a French range that roughly mirrors ours, but it's clear there are plenty of wonderfully endearing cars we Brits should be getting but aren't.

Which is why I think Southport, with its vaguely Parisian boulevard running right through its centre and al fresco dining areas alongside it, is somewhere vaguely French enough to support the reintroduction of big French cars.

We should all be given new Renault Espaces and Citroen C6s - so that we can show the rest of Britain that cars other than bland crossovers and poverty-spec German saloons are available.

The Big French Car deserves a reintroduction here, and with our historical connections to Paris we're the ideal place to do it.

Just don't mention depreciation or the whole idea's ruined…

New Renault Clio is given a very subtle revamp

RENAULT'S Clio has been given a subtle revamp.

While you might not notice the new full LED headlights, the new hands-free parking system, the choice of two new engines and better audio and satnav systems will appeal to fans of the French supermini.

Prices will be announced closer to its launch in September.

For more information, visit www.fiat.com

Mazda launches special edition new supermini

MAZDA'S hoping you'll see red over its new special edition supermini.

Confusingly, the Mazda2 Red Edition is only available in white or black, but it does have red seats, interior detailing and exterior trim.

You can add to the look by ordering a set of 15-inch alloy wheels, but otherwise it'll set you back £14,995.

formbyford

is closing at the end of July due to the retirement of its owners Paul & Susan Rigby.

We of course wish them both a long, happy and healthy retirement and would also like to offer their customers continuation of the top quality service they have enjoyed for many years.

Martin Bedson (Formby Ford's Sales Manager of 18 years) will be joining us on 1st August and will continue looking after all of his customers personally. He will be offering the same great deals on both New & Used cars and will of course take care of his Motability Customers whether it be to order a New Ford with Nil Deposit or the Servicing Requirements on their current car.

Fairway Motors is Merseyside's oldest Ford Dealer and is only 15 minutes drive from Formby on the new A5758 link road.

We look forward to being of service to all Formby Ford's customers and are happy to undertake any warranty work on both New & Used cars. Our service department is also on hand to look after any service issues you may have on cars or vans.

We Are Here To Serve You.

The best new car deals are at Merseyside's oldest Ford dealer!

Ormskirk run out of time in chase for win

EARLY morning rain eventually subsided last Saturday allowing nine out of the eleven local Liverpool & District Cricket Competition clubs to take to the field.

Burscough's game at Highfield was abandoned without a ball being bowled due to drainage problems, while Southport & Birkdale's players and officials had a weekend off to prepare and manage their Trafalgar Road ground and its facilities for the prestigious County Championship match between Lancashire and Durham (see story and pictures, left).

In the Premier Division third placed Ormskirk were held to a draw at Rainhill, the hosts elected to bat first and after batting for 67.2 overs were eventually bowled out for 183 with Tyler McGladdery scoring 42, whilst Josh Bohannon 3-32 and Jamie Barnes 3-33 both bowled well.

In reply the visitors ran out of time in their run chase and ended up on 161-8 with Josh Bohannon and George Lavelle both scoring 38, whilst Dave Atkinson took 4-14 with the ball.

Second placed Northern and fourth placed Bootle drew at Moor Park while seventh placed Formby drew at Leigh.

In the First Division, Burscough's match at Highfield was called off without a ball being bowled due to a saturated outfield and to make matters worse the loss of play saw the long time league leader's drop down to third place in a very tightly packed division.

Fleetwood Hesketh moved up to second in the table after a 56 run home against bottom of the table Maghull, the hosts were put in to bat and stand-in skipper Lee Bolton soon had plenty to worry about as five of his top seven batsmen failed to hit double figures.

However 59 from Sri Lankan all rounder Issy Perera and some lower resilience helped to push the total to 157, with Liam Johnson 5-42 and Australian Jack Wrigglesworth 3-39 in-form with the ball. In reply Wrigglesworth's top score of 28 was all in vain as Perera capped off a fine individual performance by taking 6-25.

Ainsdale recorded a seven wicket home win over Northop Hall, the visitors were asked to bat first and dismissed for just 79 with Robbie Rimmington left unbeaten on 23, whilst in-form Mal Swift made the ball swing his way with an impressive 6-31 from 17 overs.

In reply two unbeaten knocks from Sam Lucas (32*) and Mark Lucas (17*) helped take fourth placed Ainsdale to victory on 82-3.

● In the Second Division, sixth placed Southport Trinity beat Old Xaverians at the Rookery by 72 runs and ninth placed Hightown St Mary's had a six wicket home win against Parkfield Liscard.

● This weekend's local LDCC fixtures (1pm) Birkenhead Park v Northern, Bootle v Leigh, Formby v Lytham, Ormskirk v Rainford, Burscough v Orrell Red Triangle, Maghull v Prestatyn. Newton le Willows v Ainsdale, Southport & Birkdale v Highfield, Wigan v Fleetwood Hesketh, St Helens v Hightown St Mary's and Skelmersdale v Southport Trinity.

Action from the Lancashire v Durham game

County clash at Southport

LANCASHIRE'S County Championship Division One game against Durham was played at Southport and Birkdale Sports Club this week.

Spectators were able to see England stars James Anderson playing for Lancashire and Ben Stokes appearing for Durham. Durham captain Paul Collingwood scored 50 on day two.

Organisers said there were 2,003 spectators on the first day (Saturday) and 2,086 on the second day.

Southport and Birkdale Sports Club chairman, Tony Elwood speaking on the third day said: "This is a big sporting event in Southport this Summer. We are really pleased with how it has gone so far."

Ex-Premier League keeper nets new role for Linnets

BURSCOUGH FC will have a new face on the sidelines next season after former Premier League goalkeeper John Filan was confirmed as first team coach.

As a player, he was between the sticks from 1989 until 2008 and notably played in England's top division for Coventry City, Blackburn Rovers and Wigan Athletic.

Filan, who was also capped three times for Australia, will work alongside new manager David Powell.

Meanwhile, the fixtures for next season have been revealed, with the Linnets starting the campaign away at Trafford FC on Saturday, August 13.

The side's first home game is an evening kick off on Tuesday, August 16 against Lancaster City FC.

John Filan

Former players back in the fold at Stormy Corner

THE fixtures for the new season are out and Skelmersdale United are ready for the off.

That is the message from Stormy Corner and manager, Tommy Lawson, has strengthened his squad, giving the team a solid reliable look about it.

Tommy Lawson will know exactly what he has brought in to improve things and hopefully he will start to see the results with Skelmersdale United back in action beginning last night against Accrington Stanley.

The first Evo-Stik Premier Division game of the season is at home to Grantham Town on Saturday, August 13, followed by a couple of trips to Derbyshire on Tuesday (16th) at Matlock Town then at Mickleover Sports on Saturday, August 20. Boxing Day sees a Derby match trip to Marine with the return at Skem on Easter Monday.

A full list of fixtures is available on the Skelmersdale United website.

Among the new signings that Tommy Lawson has made are striker Dean Astbury, left-winger Tom Ince and central defender Rob Bodie, all three are proven former Skem players who left the club for none-footballing reasons but, according to Tommy, they were very keen to return and took no persuading to join.

Next Saturday, July 23, Skelmersdale travel to play Welsh club Flint Town for what is a 2-30pm kick off.

Then a busy week follows, Tuesday July 26, sees a trip to Ashton Athletic for a pre-season encounter, followed by a pair of really interesting games. Everton visit on Thursday, July 28 for a semi-final tie in the Liverpool County FA Senior Cup. The match kicks off at 7-45pm and must be decided on the night with a penalty shoot-out if the scores are level after 90 minutes. Entrance is only £5 for adults with children just £1 so it is a great night to bring the children along to see some Premier League stars of the future in the Everton line-up.

On July 30 Skelmersdale will meet Enfield in a game which invokes memories of the their 1967 Wembley FA Amateur Cup Final.

Several of the Wembley heroes could be attending on the day for the game at Stormy Corner.
